WRITTEN INFORMED CONSENT FOR HIV ANTIBODY TESTING

(Conventional Testing - Not for Use with a Rapid HIV Test)

Test Subject or Number: _____ Date: _____

Time: _____

I hereby grant my permission for a test to detect whether I have antibodies to HIV (Human Immunodeficiency Virus) in my body.

HIV Testing is voluntary and requires your consent in writing. The purpose of HIV antibody testing is to show whether you are infected with HIV, the virus that causes AIDS.

Any test result that indicates that antibodies for HIV are present is considered positive for HIV infection.

Before you consent to be tested for HIV, your healthcare provider should speak to you about:

- How HIV is passed from person to person and mother to baby;
- Steps to take that may prevent the transmission of HIV; and
- The meaning of an HIV antibody test result.

If you agree with the following statements and want to consent to HIV testing, please sign this form.

I have been counseled about the benefits of having an HIV test and understand that:

- Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) is the virus that causes AIDS;
- HIV is spread by sexual intercourse, so all sexually active persons are potentially at risk for HIV infection;
- HIV can be passed from a mother to her baby during pregnancy, at delivery, and through breastfeeding; and
- HIV antibody test results are confidential, and the law protects me from discrimination.

I understand that a positive result does not mean I have AIDS, but indicates that I have HIV infection. I understand that if my test results are positive, I will be offered HIV counseling.

I understand that test results may indicate that a person has HIV antibodies when the person does not have the antibodies (a false positive result) or the test may fail to detect that a person has antibodies to the virus when the person does in fact have these antibodies (a false negative result).

If my HIV antibody test result is negative, no further testing will be done at this time. A negative HIV antibody test result most likely means that I am not infected with HIV, but it may not detect recent infection.

If my HIV antibody test result is positive, this means that antibodies to the virus were detected and that I am HIV infected.

Confidentiality of HIV Information:

If you take the rapid HIV test, your test results are confidential. Under Illinois law, confidential HIV information can be given only to people whom you allow it to be given by your written approval, to people who need to know your HIV status in order to provide medical care and services, including: an authorized agent or employee of a health facility or a healthcare provider if the health facility or provider is authorized to obtain test results; those who are exposed to blood/body fluids in the course of their employment; and organizations that review the services you receive.

The law also allows your confirmed HIV test results to be released: to public health officials as required by law; for payment for care and treatment; to a temporary caretaker of children taken into protective custody by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services; and to any other entity permitted by the AIDS Confidentiality Act.

I understand that my test results will be kept confidential to the extent provided by law. In addition, I understand that I may withdraw from the testing at any point in time prior to the completion of laboratory tests. I understand that my testing is voluntary.

I agree to be tested and I agree that I may be told my test results.

I agree that if the result of my HIV test is positive I may be referred to another healthcare provider for follow-up testing and care.

I authorize Protective Life Insurance Company or its reinsurers to make a brief report of any personal health information to the MIB.

I have been advised about the purpose, potential uses, limitations and meaning of the test results; the voluntary nature of the test; the right to withdraw consent at any time prior to the completion of laboratory tests; and the confidentiality protections under the law. The information presented above has been completely and clearly explained to me, and all of my questions have been answered. I hereby authorize my physician or facility to collect an oral or blood specimen and perform an HIV antibody test on that specimen.

Before You Buy Life Insurance

Understand What Life Insurance Is

Life insurance pays a death benefit if you die while the policy is in effect, in exchange for premiums you pay before your death. You can use the death benefit to protect against financial hardships such as loss of your income, funeral expenses, medical or nursing care expenses, debt repayments, and child care costs after your death. You can get information from the NAIC InsureU Life Insurance website - www.insureuonline.org/insureu\_type\_life.htm

If You Need Life Insurance, Decide How Much Coverage to Buy

How much life insurance to buy depends on the financial needs that will continue after your death. Examples include supporting your family, paying for child(ren)'s education, and paying off a mortgage. Some questions you may want to ask about your own needs include:

- Does anyone depend on me financially?
- How much of the family income do I provide?
- How will my family pay my final expenses and repay debts after my death?
- Do I want to leave money to charity or family?
- If I have life insurance through my employer, is it enough to meet my financial obligations?

The answers to these questions can help you decide how much coverage you need. An Insurance agent, financial advisor, or insurance company representative can help you evaluate your insurance needs and give you information about available policies.

If You Already Have Life Insurance, Assess Your Current Life Insurance Policy

It's important to compare your current policy with any new policy you might buy. Keep in mind that you may be able to change your current policy to get benefits you want. Also, know that any changes in your health may impact your ability to get a new policy or the premium you'll pay. Don't cancel your current policy until you get the new one.

Also, while you may have free or low-cost life insurance through your employer, the death benefit usually is less than you need. And if you leave the employer, you may not be able to take this coverage with you.

Compare the Different Types of Insurance Policies

There are many types of life insurance policies. You should choose a policy with features that fit your individual needs. Some things to consider are:

- Term Insurance vs. Cash Value Insurance. Term insurance is intended to provide lower-cost coverage for a specific period of time ("a term"). If you want coverage for a longer period of time, such as for your lifetime, cash value insurance may be more cost effective. Most term policies don't build up cash values that you can use in the future.
- Renewable Term vs. Non-renewable Term. Most term life insurance coverage can be continued ("renewed") at the end of the term, even if your health has changed. If you renew a term policy, the new premiums are higher. Ask what the premiums will be before you renew the policy. Also ask if you'll lose the right to renew the policy at a certain age. A Non-renewable term policy can't be continued. You'll have to apply for a new policy if you still want coverage.

- Whole Life vs. Universal Life. Whole life and universal life insurance are two types of cash value insurance. A key difference between the two is how you pay for the coverage. You typically pay premiums for whole life insurance according to a set schedule. In a universal life policy, you can choose a flexible premium payment pattern as long as you pay enough to keep your policy in force.
- Variable Life vs. Non-variable Life. The investments you will choose (such as stock and bond funds) in a variable life policy directly impact your cash value. These policies have the greatest potential to build cash value but also the greatest risk of losing cash value. Non-variable life policies often have guaranteed minimums for some features (interest or cash value, for example) but not all. Non-variable life policies also have less potential to build cash value than variable policies.

Be Sure You Can Afford the Premium

Before you buy a life insurance policy, be sure you can pay the premiums. Can you afford the initial premium? If the premium increases later, will you still be able to afford it? The premiums for many life insurance policies are sensitive to changes in the company's investment earnings, claims costs, and other expenses. If those are worse than expected, you may have to pay a much higher premium. Ask what might be the highest premium you'd have to pay to keep your coverage.

Understand the Application Process

You can apply for life insurance through life insurance agents, the mail, and online. In addition to basic information, such as your name, address, employer, job title, and date of birth, you'll be asked for more personal information. Depending on the type of policy, the insurer may require you to see a doctor, answer health-related questions, or have a medical professional come to your home or office to assess your health. Usually a policy that doesn't require detailed health information will cost more and provide less coverage than one that does.

It's important to tell the truth on the application. The insurance company will check your answers so review the application before you sign. If the insurance company discovers false statements on your application after it issues your policy, it could reduce or cancel your coverage.

Choose a Beneficiary

A beneficiary is the person(s) or organization(s) you name to receive your life insurance policy's death benefit. You'll need to know the Social Security or tax identification number for all beneficiaries. Experts advise you not to name a minor child as a beneficiary. Insurance companies won't pay a minor. Instead, consider leaving the money to your estate or trust.

Evaluate the Future of Your Policy

Does your policy have a cash value? In some cash value policies, the values are low in the early years but build later on. In other policies the values build up gradually over the years. Most term policies have no cash value. Ask your insurance agent, financial advisor, or an insurance company representative for an illustration showing future values and benefits.

After You Buy Life Insurance

Read Your Policy Carefully

After you carefully read your policy, you should be able to answer the following important questions:

- Is your personal information correct?
- Do premiums or policy values vary from year to year?
- What part of the premium or policy value isn't guaranteed?
- How will the timing of money paid and received affect any interest the policy might earn?

Your insurance agent, financial advisor, or an insurance company representative can help you understand anything that isn't clear.

If you're not satisfied with your new policy, you can return it for a full refund within a certain period, usually 10 days after you receive it. The review period usually is stated on the first page of the policy.

Review Your Life Insurance Program Every Few Years

Review your policy with your insurance agent, financial advisor, or an insurance company representative every few years to keep up with changes in your policy and your needs.

- Have the premiums or benefits changed since your policy was issued?
- Do the death benefits still meet your needs?
- Do you need more or less coverage after life events, such as birth, adoption, marriage, job change, death, or divorce?

The insurance company can provide policy statements and illustrations to help with this review. As the policy owner, you can change beneficiaries at no cost. Be sure to review your beneficiaries every few years, especially after major life events that affect your life insurance needs.

REQUIRED CALIFORNIA DISCLOSURE – For Universal Life Policies with No-Lapse Guarantees

This policy is guaranteed to stay in force for a specified number of years as long as you meet the requirements of the Policy, including the Minimum Monthly Premium provision found in the policy contract. This provision is also known as a no-lapse guarantee, and a general description of the provision is included in the Narrative Summary section of the Basic Illustration.

While this policy provides a no-lapse guarantee, it may provide nonforfeiture benefits, such as cash surrender values, which are less than those that would be provided if the guarantee were issued as a separate policy, such as a term policy. If a separate term policy has higher nonforfeiture benefits, the premiums for the separate policy might be higher than the premiums for the no-lapse guarantee provided in this policy. Therefore, when considering the purchase of this policy, you should compare the value of higher nonforfeiture benefits, such as cash surrender values, versus the premiums required to keep your insurance coverage in force.

REQUIRED SOUTH CAROLINA DISCLOSURE – For Universal Life Policies with No-Lapse Guarantees

If there is no policy debt or partial surrenders, this policy is guaranteed to stay in force during the no lapse period as long as you have paid the required minimum premiums. This guarantee could be provided by a separate policy (such as a term policy). However, the nonforfeiture benefits (such as cash surrender value) in this policy may be significantly less valuable than those provided by the separate policy. So, if you fail to pay a premium within a specified period of time from its due date or otherwise cause this policy to terminate early, the benefits paid to you upon termination could be much less than would customarily be paid if provided by the separate policy.

When thinking about purchasing this policy, you should consider the tradeoff you may be making between having significantly smaller nonforfeiture benefits (such as a cash surrender value) available to you upon surrender of the policy versus the reduction in premium, if any, you may receive for not having these benefits.
